STOUFFER LINE OF DESCENT

Originated in Lancaster County Pennsylvania. This was found in a book given to Everett Stouffer in 8-1951 by Charles H. Cory, Jr. from Florida. It said for private distribution among families of the line with no pecuniary solicitation whatever. People tried to write this man later and got no answer, so presume he is now dead.

MATTHIAS STAUFFER was one of over a dozen persons of this name who emigrated from Germany to Pennsylvania during the 18 th century. They came by ship by way of Rotterdam. He was a Mennonite who fled for peace and safety to the new western world because of religious persecution. They landed at Philadelphia. They settled in the south-eastern part of Pennsylvania. The name Stouffer was used by this branch. (Stauffer, Stover, Stouffer). It is found that the Stauffer people had originally inhabited Switzerland as far back as the 13 th and 14th centuries. The name is an ancient one and seems to have rooted in Berne and Lucerne Cantons, Switzerland. The root of the name Staufe means either cup or steep hill, especially the symbol of a hand holding a cup which is the Coat-of-Arms for the families in Berne, Switzerland. Matthias purchased land in Lancaster Co. in 4-1740. He had a will dated 1758 and it is believed he died a short time later. He had a widow Anne. Sons named in the will were Henrich, Matthias, Christian, Peter and Jacob. The will also mentions young sons and daughters, but doesn't name them. It was written in German. The names of the other five children were obtained from deeds.They are Susanna, Daniel, Barbara, Esther and SAMUEL.

SAMUEL STOUFFER also owned land and was also a "cordwainer" or shoemaker. His wife was Elizabeth. The Mennonites, as a church, maintained no record of birth, marriages or deaths. Tax records for him were under the following spellings--Stowfard, Stofer, Stouffer. In the 1790 census--1 male over 16, 4 male under 16 and 3 females. He sold his land in 1795 and evidently went west. The oldest son JOHN did not go.

JOHN STOUFFER was born about 1765 in Lancaster Co. PA and died 3-10-1817. He was taxed under Stopher. His wife was Mary. Believe daughter of Henry Ginder as a Mary . wife of John Stouffer was listed in his will. Married about 1786. From another record it said she was born 2-12-1767 and died 8-2-1846. Her name was on a Lutheran church record at Carlisle Springs, PA. Only 3 children were listed Mary married to Barnet Kennedy, Susan born 1795 and married to Jacob Goodshall, and HENRY.

HENRY STOUFFER was a cobbler by trade. He married about 1811. He married Margaret Lawrence, when the children were baptized in the First Lutheran Church at Carlisle, her first name appeared as Maria Madgalena, Ana Magdalena, Margrata and Ana Margrata. The name Lawrence could also be Lorentz. It is believed she died 1839 according to a paper. His farmily included John, Joseph (he was the ancestor of Charles H. Cory, Jr. who did this book), Marie Magdalena (Mary) married a Daniel Weikel, Matthias die at age of 20, John George died in 1865, Sarah was married to a Jacob Welter and then to a John Good in IL, Henry die at age of 19, Anna Margaret die at age of 18, WILLIAM PARKER (our line), Samuel die in Iowa in 1910 and Katherine married a McGuire.

WILLIAM PARKER STOUFFER According to records in PA, he was born 1-14-1823 in Carlisle, PA to Henry and Margaret Lawrence Stouffer. He was the 9th of 11 children. They were connected with the German Lutheran Church. At the age of 28, in 1851, as the story goes he drove all the way by himself in a one-horse wagon to his brother, Joseph in Dayton, Ohio. Here he met Anna Spitler, daughter of Jacob and Susanna Spitler who was born in 1828. He married her 8-8-1852. His brother, Joseph and wife witnessed the marriage. They lived between Dayton and Brookville, OH in Preble Co. Three children , Mary, Jacob and John were born to the couple. Anna died 5-30-1860 and was buried in Happy Corner Church Cemetery, near Clayton, OH. Earl Stouffer had a slide picture of the tombstone of Anna and also of William's brother Joseph's stone. A lot of Spitlers buried in this cemetery. Stewart Petry's went in the 1970's to find the grave and couldn't find it. A sister of Anna Spitler married a Warner and moved to North Manchester.

William married Hester Kershner 1-1-1861. Her parents were Samuel and Sidney Kershner. The Kershner's lived on up into Darke Co. near Greenville. After he married Hester he moved to this county. He had nice flat ground, but at that time it wasn't drained, so decided to come to IN to find ground that would drain. In 1865 he and his wife and 5 children--Daniel and William were born in OH, went by wagon with 2 cows behind. The first night they got to Eaton, IN north of Muncie and stayed in a farmers barn.. Then the next day they took a State Road then that took them along Frances Slocum Trail to near Logansport, IN where they lived until 1874. The following children were born here: Josephine, Lillie, James, Frank, Sarah and Zenith. Then they came to Wabash Co. And bought land behind where Ernie Paulus used to live. This is shown on the 1875 Wabash Co. Map--Noble Twp. 55 and 175. This is a little way east of the Friends Cemetery on the Mill Creek Pike. Four more children were born: Grace, Harriett, Henry and Leonard. William died 11-24-1896 and is buried in Friends Cemetery. She died in 1905 at her home on South Side of Wabash from heart trouble and dropsy. She was a member of the Christian Church. There is a tombstone with their names on it.

Most of the family stayed in Wabash County. Lillie and her husband lived in South Dakota and Michigan before coming back to IN. Grace always lived around Logansport. Sarah lived in Wabash Co. in early married life and then moved to Warsaw, IN. Leonard also lived in South Dakota awhile but came back to the Somerset area.

Worker seriously injured in explosion

5-4-82

A Wabash resident was seriously burned in a fire yesterday afternoon at the Abresist Corp., north of Urbana on Ind. 13.

Dennis Unger, 30, 1473 Vernon St., was taken to Wabash County Hospital about 4:30 p.m., then transfered to the burn unit at St. Joseph's Hospital, Fort Wayne. He is listed in serious condition with burns covering 21 percent of his body, according to a hospital spokesman.

Urbana Fire Chief Gene Biehl said Unger, an electrician, was in a storeroom working on a water heater when it exploded. It is not known what caused the explosion, he added, but it is being studied.

No dollar estimate is available on the damage, but Biehl said the storeroom was heavily damaged and several other parts of the building incurred smoke damage.

The Urbana fire department spent about an hour putting the fire out, he said, and the Roann department was also called in.

The Abresist Corp. manufactures heat-resistant pipe.

Fire destroys rural home

Earl + Anna Stouffer's former Home 7/15/03

An unoccupied home southwest of Wabash was destroyed by fire early this morning.

The home, north of the intersection of county roads 400S and 300W, was in the process of being remodeled. The structure was apparently owed by Paul Pattee.

It was being rewired and the fire, reported at 3:32 a.m., is believed to have an electrical origin. The fire had engulfed the home before being discovered, and sparking electrical wires further hindered efforts to extinguish it, Noble Fire Chief Clarence Rathbun said.

The Noble Township Fire Department was assisted by units from LaFontaine-Liberty and Lincolnville.

Play to be presented during Wabash Strawberry Fest

BY CORRESPONDENT
STEVE JONES

When Wabash Strawberry Fest committee members asked Margie Burgess if she would be interested in writing a play for presentation during the June festival by members of the Wabash Area Community Theater, Burgess said she would.

But what of the subject of the play? Burgess knew past presentations dealt with facets of Wabash's early history. But Burgess was fascinated by the reasons why two local schools had been named after Wabash people: the O.J. Neighbors Elementary School and the W.C. Mills Elementary School. She decided to write a play about one or both of the these men.

"I had through my parents known of W.C. Mills. I had also heard many fascinating stories from other people about Mills. However, when I began my research, I did not realize what a great man Mills was.

"I started researching information concerning both men. I really started with Mills. I found so much material about the man that I just didn't have time to go with research on Neighbors.

"At the onset, I happened to be out in my back yard, talking to my neighbor, Dorothy Mattern. Dorothy knew Mills. Mills was one of her teachers. She said, 'No one cared more for the welfare of children than W.C. Mills.' Other people with whom I spoke of Mills said basically the same thing.

"The more I got into this, the more I saw what an incredible amount of service he gave to Wabash, to the community," Burgess said.

Mills was born in a two-room log cabin north of Wabash in 1887. He was a birthright Quaker. Mills attended local schools at Speicherville and Wabash.

"Mills was the youngest of 15 children. The man who would begin Community Service in Wabash gave his life to God's service while in his teens. He prepared for missionary work at Fairmount Friends College before he taught at a Friends Society college — Southland College — in Helena, Ark.

"Later he accepted a job in 1912 as manual training instructor in Union City, where he opened a city park with games and facilities for the public. Seven years later in 1921, Mills was brought to Wabash to head Community Service.

"During World War I, the government allocated money for activities for encamped soldiers. When the war ended, considerable sums still existed for this purpose, which were used to fund Community Service on a national scale. Civic-minded citizens were encouraged to organize permanent services of their own by national representatives. When the citizens of Wabash recognized the possibilities of such a program, they sought to hire Mills. He took the challenge and was head of Community Service in Wabash for thirty years from 1921 to 1950," said Burgess about Mills, who died in 1965.

"Mills also oversaw the Boy Scout and Girl Scout programs. Mills created a remarkable camp — Camp Shueela, a summer camp for boys and girls, located two miles east of Roann on the Eel River. Thousands of youngsters swam, played and learned wood lore over the years at the site where his wife Rosa did all the cooking.

"I talked with many people who had attended Camp Shueela. Each of these people had distinctive memories of their experiences at the camp.

"Each person had stories about Mills and what they learned from him; things such as archery, wood lore, camping. He even taught kids the names of stars and how to find them in the night sky. He was to these youngsters an unforgettable figure," said Burgess.

"Mills also promoted physical fitness among school children long before physical fitness became popular. He went to each school each week promoting excercise and led kids in excercise programs.

"Mills did much of his work in the old gym on Main Street in Wabash. Mills brought Community Service to the Honeywell Memorial Center when his friend, Mark Honeywell, gave Mills a permanent place to do his work. Awarded Distinquished Citizen in 1948, Mills retired in 1950 most elated by the gift of a car and a Saulman portrait of Christ from the citizens of Wabash. He retired to restore the property around his home at 300 Columbus St. to its original state before the pioneers settled the area.

"Part of the property had a military camp during the Civil War. One of the special things he did was reconstruct a spring in his back yard that served as water supply for the soldiers, one of whom had been his father.

"Mills was very active in his church. He entertained youth groups in his backyard and many church dinner meetings and church socials were held in the Mills home and yard.

"One of the facets of Mills' life that impressed me was this: He was never out to make a name for himself. He was a very humble man. And in talking with people who had known Mills as a teacher and a friend, I became aware of just how many people's lives he touched and made better. People I interviewed, who hadn't been grade school for 70 years, could still quote Mills. Mills, called wonderful by everyone with whom I spoke, once said, 'I never found a child that there wasn't something in him I liked.'

"My admiration for him became real," Burgess said.

Burgess, who teaches freshman composition at Manchester College, began writing the play at the end of 1998, said the play will depict Mills' early life and experiences in Wabash. It includes dialogue or scenes based upon what people told me of their experiences with Mills.

"I was really glad to write this play and bring back the truth of what this remarkable man did. In addition to the play, we will have local people on the stage prior to the play talking about their personal experiences with and memories of W.C. Mills," Burgess said.

Wabash Area Community Theater performers will present Memories of W.C. Mills at the stage at Paradise Spring Park, Wabash, at 11 a.m. and 3 p.m. June, 12.

Dear Martha Jane -

Thanks so much for your Greetings and newsy letter.

We are all feeling good. I will be with Jim and Shirley for Christmas dinner.

I'm sorry about Anna Stouffers difficulties. Glad Ethel is getting along good. I got a letter from Esther Kempel Maybe you did too. Anyway she has the shingles and is having a rough time. I had them once and that's the worst thing that ever happened to me -

My sister Hazel is in a nursing home in Greenville Michigan. Earl and his daughter-in-law moved her from Florida in August. Earl stayed in Michigan until Nov. 15. The daughter in law took him back to Florida. He says he just cant stand the Mich. cold. He gets pneumonia easily. He has to wear a pace maker. His heart is getting along much better with that. Hazel's mind is in a bad condition. Hazel and Earl are both 89 years of age. Hope to see you at the reunion. Edith

Does the year 1931 ring any bells for you? Some of you will remember it as one of the years of the Great Depression. I remember it as the year of my birth (hope it didn't contribute to the Depression).
This picture will bring back memories to a lot of farmers. It depicts the way it is not done any more. To my wife it's life on the farm with her family.
Pictured (left to right) is my wife's brother Rex and her father Sherman Ridenour (both deceased) and her other brother, Leon, who now resides in Laketon.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Ridenour, 1283 Willard Drive, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary at an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday at Bachelor Creek Church of Christ.

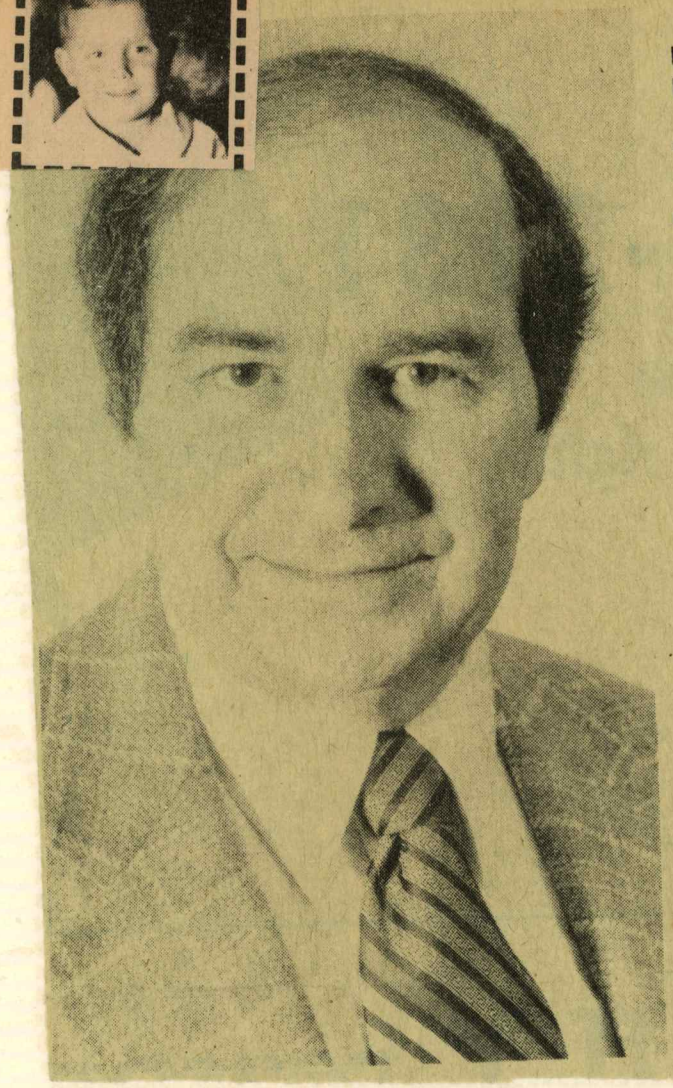
Phil Cramer

11-1980



Phil Cramer has lived in Wabash all his life and has sold advertising for the Plain Dealer for 33 of those years.

He's seen the transition from "hot type," when the type on the pages was upside down and backward and made of metal, to offset, when composing ads basically involves pasting down paper.

Now Phil is assistant advertising director, which involves planning in addition to his sales activities.

One of his extra attractions to Plain Dealer readers is his weekly "Phil's Flicker Flashbacks," which features old pictures from Wabash County groups and activities.

A Wabash High School class of 1950 graduate, Phil got the ink in his veins while a freshman and sophomore by delivering papers for the City News Agency — the Chicago Herald-American, Chicago Sun-Times, Chicago News, Chicago Tribune, Detroit News and Indianapolis Star.

Phil and his wife, Shermadean, have two daughers, Phyllis and Christie, both of whom live in Cincinnati.

Phil is an elder at Bachelor Creek Church of Christ.

His off-hours hobbies are photography and woodworking.
