The Garber or Gerber Coat of Arms dates back to the year 1091 and the First Crusade.

According to an outstanding Authority on Heraldry this Coat of Arms represents the Garbers and Gerbers as Knights in charge of the food supply train. The green field with shocks of wheat and the blue sky are symbolic of their Office and their important function.

Many years have passed since the author of this volume first turned his interest and efforts to the problem of genealogical research and the compilation of data for the Garber Family History. Since then the records of thousands of Garbers and their descendants have been acquired. However, it is unfortunate that there are a few relatives who are not interested and some who procrastinate in the matter of furnishing their family data. Unless the Historian finds another source for the missing data it must unfortunately be omitted.

The History of the Garber Family over the past four hundred years began with the Reformation and its attendant debauchery, persecutions and destruction of innocent families by the panderistic, inhumane servants of the Catholic Church. Regardless of such inhumane persecutions man emerged from this, the darkest period of his existence, into a new life of religious freedom, freedom of thought and expression. However, these cherished freedoms were not fully attained by the Garbers until they migrated to America, a great new Country which offered freedom of worship.

Since the publication of Volume I of the Garber Historical and Genealogical Record much more information concerning our early ancestors has been brought to light. In fact there were several ways in which our family name was spelled. However, Garber and Gerber became the predominant and earliest way in which the family name was spelled. Thus it was when the Garbers fled from persecution in Germany and crossed the border into Switzerland. There they built homes and raised their families only to be subjected to persecution again when the State Church of Switzerland was established and the Garbers did not conform.

An incident of record states that one Waldo Gerber was decapitated in Berne because he was a minister and refused to embrace the state religion. This event took place in the year 1543. At the same time many of our people, especially the ministers, were flogged and their homes burned to the ground. Now these deeply religious people fled in terror across the German-Swiss border and settled in the Lower German Palatinate. There they were fairly secure and could worship without too much interference. Eventually the Garbers and Gerbers learned of a new land across the Atlantic Ocean where people were free to worship as their spirits and minds interpreted the Lord's word. Thus began the migration of our people to America.

In the year 1734 Michael Garber, believed to be a relative of Johannes H. Garber, and wife Anna, age 22, came down the Rhine River with many others of their faith and sailed from Rotterdam via Cowes, England aboard the ship Hope Galley, Daniel Reidt. Master. They arrived in the Port of Philadelphia on September 23 rd. 1734. It was quite natural for Michael and Anna to seek out other people of their faith and abide with them until arrangements could be made for a home of their own. Michael found the place he desired in York County, Pennsylvania. There a house was built and five more children were born to them.

At the time Michael and Anna Garber sailed for America it was a common practice of greedy ship masters to take aboard more passengers than their ship's regular capacity. They were crowded into every possible vacancy which frequently resulted in the outbreak of contagious disease among the passengers and the subsequent burial of many of these good people at sea. Michael Garber was aware of this condition before he and his wife took passage to America. Consequently, three of their young children were left with relatives and friends until they grew to adulthood at which time they could join their parents in America.

John H. Garber had not only the means but also the leisure and inclination to make himself useful to his neighbors. He traveled extensively on horse-back to bring the gospel message to scattered settlers. He cobbled shoes for his neighbors and for his own family. He cultivated friendly relations with the Indians and demonstrated what intelligent industry and good management could do in building a home in the American Wilderness."

Word of John H. Garber's success soon spread northward to Maryland and Pennsylvania. This started a tide of migration southward. Here the author would like to introduce another important reason why the Garbers, at that particular time, welcomed the opportunity to move into a more isolated area. This lay in their church doctrine which stood strictly opposed to bearing arms against their fellow man. Here again our ancestors suffered persecution because of their religious convictions. Homes were burned, live stock stolen and some of the people suffered personal injuries. All of this came at the hands of irate soldiers returning from the battle fields of the Revolution. This situation also accounts for the wagon-train of Garbers and their Brethren friends who settled in Washington County, Pennsylvania about the same time John H. Garber and his friends were moving into the Shenandoah Valley. In this west bound wagon-train were Garbers, Biglers, Ellers, Crumrines, Swiharts, Grables, Shidlers, Koutzens and many others.

"The two elder sons of John H. Garber, Martin and Samuel, who had remained in Maryland when their father moved to Virginia had in the meantime married. Their wives were sisters, daughters of Elder Jacob Stoner. These brothers with their families and Michael Wine and his family now joined the cavalcade to cast their lot with John H. Garber in the Shenandoah Valley. In a little more than two weeks they pulled up along side the great flat rock and made their camp in the vicinity of John H. Garber's home. Martin Garber purchased a tract of four hundred acres near his father. Of the six families who came with this wagon-train at least five settled in the immediate neighborhood. The settlement grew rapidly until, in 1787, thirty-two families had arrived. Most of them settled in the vicinity of Flat Rock.

The leader of the settlement was, of course, Elder John H. Garber. For eight years he and his family had pioneered in the valley and had made their name and their church a symbol of what is best and finest in life. The Indians trusted and respected him, for they had learned by experience that he was a friend of all men" Elder John H. Garber died in the year 1787 and was interred in the Garber Cemetery near his home."

THE NAME AND FAMILY OF GARBER

The name Garber or Gerber is an occupational name meaning, according to some authorities, a tanner and to others it means a grower of wheat, a harvester or farmer. As far as can be determined at this time, the Garbers date back in history as far as the First Crusade in 1093, or perhaps farther. During this historic event the Garbers were Knights in charge of provisions according to the interpretation of "Wade". Thus the Garbers and Gerbers have a proven historic Coat of Arms. A reproduction of this Coat of Arms and Shield has been provided as the frontispiece of this Volume.

There are many deviations in the spelling of our original name GERBER. Some of these deviations are listed as follows: Garber, Garbert, Gerberd, Gerbor, Garberd, Garver, Garbier and perhaps Carver. These names are frequently found in America and were probably borne by emigrants who came from Germany, Switzerland and even England and France.

THE PLIGHT AND FLIGHT OF THE GARBERS

The names Garber and Gerber are synonymous, having had the same origin in Germany and Switzerland. Both history and family legend tell us that the original and correct name is Gerber. The movements of a people from place to place, from country to country, often changes the names of things and people. Of course, the Garbers were at one time devout Catholics. Otherwise they would not have taken an important part in the first Crusade to the Holyland in the year 1093. However, the religious revolution for which the famed Martin Luther was responsible appealed to the minds and souls of the Gerbers. They thereupon became members of and supporters of the new faith 'T'unkers, a religious group which developed from the earlier Pietist or Baptist movement.

Consequently they were the subjects of unrelenting persecution which forced them to flee from place to place and conduct their religious services under cover and secretly. Eventually their life in Germany became so difficult and dangerous that many of them fled into Switzerland where they hoped to enjoy freedom of worship. Of course, they could not foresee the establishment of the State Church of Switzerland and the continued persecution which they were destined to suffer there.

In Switzerland the Garbers were divided in their religious affiliation. Some were members of the German Baptist Brethren Faith and other embraced the Mennonite Faith. However, these two faiths were so closely alike in context and rituals that the Swiss Government placed them in the same category as nonconformists.

From the Historical Sketches of Deacon Michael Gerber authored by Mr. E. P. Garber let us examine his excerpts from the Archives of Bern, Switzerland, in which he has brought to light the persecution of the German Baptist Brethren and the Mennonite peoples.

"In 1566 a minister of the sect by the name of Walti Gerber was decapitated by the Government for his persistent teaching of the Taufer doctrines. The Government captured him finally through a price of two thousand dollars bounty.

In 1596 the wife of one Joseph Gerber was banished for her faith and her husband was forced to furnish bail of one thousand dollars for her.

In 1598 one Hans Gerber was fined for harboring Taufers or Dunkers. The following year his wife was forced to forfeit approximately twelve thousand dollars of her property. Later the husband was fined again for the same amount.

In 1693 another Walti Gerber was forbidden to harbor his father because of his faith.

In 1709 one Hans Gerber and wife had to hide themselves from arrest because he was a Minister of a congregation of Taufers and kept on preaching contrary to Government orders. They were finally apprehended but their fate is not recorded.

About this same time one Elizabeth Gerber, wife of Peter Gerber, was banished with a number of others to the West Indies. Others at this time were banished to Pennsylvania, then a new Quaker Colony. Among these was one Michael Gerber from Langnau.

In 1711 a number were sent to Holland, among them one Peter Gerber. Another, Ulli Gerber, was sent to Germany.

In 1711 one Hans Gerber was condemned to the Galleys in Italy. This was equivalent to a death sentence, as nearly all galley slaves perished in service. He was a Deacon. Others were imprisoned and some escaped to turn up again in their homes in Emmental.

Most of the foregoing persecutions were inflicted upon the Taufers and Mennonites. Many had their property confiscated and their homes burned. Some were incarcerated in various prisons never to be heard of again. Occasionally homes were visited by the officers of the local governments in an effort to force heads of families to denounce their faith. Failure to do so could bring death to the family head, burning of their property and confiscation of their goods. Eventually these religious people could no longer withstand such treatment. Then came the exodus of the Taufers and Mennonites into the German Palatinate from which place they eventually migrated to America.

THE GARBERS AND GERBERS COME TO AMERICA.

The record of Garber and Gerber migrations to America is one of patience, courage, faith and determination. They were an industrious, frugal and at the same time a generous people. So begins the story of a pioneer people who played an important part in the building of our Nation. Of course, our direct ancestors were not the only Garbers or Gerbers who sought freedom and contentment in the New World. Yet they were doubtless all related in the Old Country, some distant and some closely. Over a period of approximately seventy-five years, beginning in the year 1700, families came from Switzerland and the German Palatinate leaving countless close relatives who did not have sufficient money for the journey or preferred not to break family ties. Across the Atlantic Ocean a new country, the United States of America, had come into being, a country whose constitution provided the here-to-fore unheard of principle of Freedom of Worship. Here indeed was a Mecca of salvation for a people who had endured the terrible tortures and privations of the Reformation.

THE AFFIRMATION

The following affirmation was required of the Garbers and Gerbers and the thousands of other German Baptist Brethren people when they arrived in the port of Philadelphia and became new citizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. To many of the Garbers this affirmation was administered by the reknowned Benjamin Franklin who was at that time in charge of the Port of Philadelphia.

"We Subscribers, natives and late inhabitants of the Palatinate on the Rhine River and places adjacent, having transported ourselves and our families into the Province of Pennsylvania, a Colony subject to the Crown of Great Britain, in the hopes and expectations of finding a retreat and peaceable settlement therein, do solemnly promise and engage that we will be faithful and bear true allegiance to his present Majesty, King George the Second and his successors, Kings of Great Britain, and will be f faithful to the Proprietors of this Province: and that we will demean ourselves peaceably to all his said Majesty's subjects and strictly observe and conform to the Laws of England and this Province to the utmost of our power and the best of our understanding."

MIGRATIONS OF GARBERS WITHIN AMERICA.

Two important factors were responsible for the early migrations of the Garbers within America. The first and perhaps the most effective cause involved the necessity for the settlement of new lands. This was inevitably brought about by the large families and the resulting necessity for new lands required for settlement and the homes of many, many sons. Consequently, many Garbers and their descendants came to settle along the fringe of the frontier and some even ventured into the habitat of the Indians.

Secondly, the American Revolution was fought at the time most of our early ancestors lived in York County, Pennsylvania and the County of Fredrick in Maryland. At the close of the Revolution, the soldiers returning to their homes found the "Tunkers" had taken no part in the fighting but had remained at home and had excellent farms on which they had prospered. The Garbers, as well as many other families of the German Baptist Brethren faith, adhered strongly to the tenants of their religion which prohibits them to bear arms against their fellow man. This situation so strongly disturbed the returning soldiers that again our people were persecuted for their religion. Homes and barns were burned. Cattle and other live stock were either stolen or slaughtered. Consequently the Garbers, Wines, Biglers, Millers, Swiharts, Crumrines, Ellers, Glicks, Leedys, Graybils and many others sought out new lands in which their families could be raised in comparative safety. Elder John Garber with his wagon train of family and friends went to the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia and Elder Jacob Garber with his wagon train came west to Washington County, Pennsylvania. These two movements represent the two major migrations of Garbers within America.

page 20 John Garber, number 21 above, a son of Samuel and Molly (Stoner) Garber and grandson of Elder Johannes Garber, was born in the vicinity of the Beaver Dam Old German Baptist Church, Fredrick County, Maryland. He was born November 29th. 1784, shortly before his Grandfather moved to the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia. In fact John was only a year or two old when his parents moved to Virginia. He grew to manhood among his many relatives and experienced his first great sorrow at the age of three years when his beloved grandfather, Elder Johannes H. Garber died. No doubt he was told many times of his grandfather's journey to America and the subsequent migrations to Maryland and Virginia. Being a Missionary his father was away from home and family during much of the time his children were growing up, especially as John was growing up. When John was twenty-seven years old his father went to Kentucky as a missionary. This was on October 18th. 1811. In his early twenties John married Miss Nancy Erbaugh, daughter of a prominent family of the Shenandoah Valley. Shortly after their wedding both were baptized and became members of the Old German Baptist Brethren Church. By occupation John was a farmer and in his religious life followed in the footsteps of both his father and grandfather thereby becoming a prominent Elder in the church of his choice. To John and Nancy Garber were born fifteen children, the last four of whom were born in Montgomery County, Ohio.

In the year 1835 Elder John Garber moved with his family to Montgomery County, Ohio. At the end of a long and tiresome journey, most of which was made on foot by men and boys, the Garber wagon train came to a halt in Madison Township. There the family settled on one hundred and sixty acres of land where they constructed a spacious log cabin in which they lived until the land was cleared. The a brick house was constructed in which ample room was provided for his large family. By this time Elder John Garber was seventy-three years old, his life's work was done. He died in the year 1856 and six years later his beloved companion passed away on March 17th. 1862. They were laid to rest in a small cemetery near their home along Garber Run. Elder John Garber was honored by his neighbors and many friends for his uprightness of character and the long and useful life he had lived.

Hundreds of descendants have done this great and good man honor by following in his footsteps. Their's is a heritage of which they may be justly proud.

Samuel Garber, son of John and Nancy (Erbaugh) Garber, was born in Rockingham County, Virginia in the year 1818. When about seventeen years old he came to Montgomery County, Ohio with his parents. Doubtless as a young man he traveled most of the way on foot because his father's wagons were well loaded with younger children, household goods and farm implements. In the year 1841, six years after his arrival in Montgomery County, Samuel married Miss Lydia Heeter. They reared a family of eight children, a ninth having died in infancy. In the year 1842 Samuel and Lydia became members of the Old German Baptist Church. Like his father, Samuel took an active part in church affairs. On February 27th. 1851 he became a Deacon and on July 29th. 1852 was advanced to the Ministry. He was ordained in 1864 near the close of the Civil War.

Elder Samuel Garber was an outstanding leader of his people and was highly respected by those who were not of his faith. At his death, which occurred on February 28th, 1862, he passed his mantle of Christian Faith and leadership to his sons Henry and John who, like their father, became leaders and servants of the Church.

The name Garber and the Wolf Creek church are to a great extent synonymous. Samuel and Lydia Garber were elected to the Ministry in the original old brick church in the year 1852. This church had its origin in the year 1811 and has been the house of worship for many, many Garbers for well over a century. The present frame church was constructed in 1882 which was during the last year of Elder Samuel Garber's dedicated life. Some of the Garbers and their relatives who have served the Wolf Creek Church are listed as follows.

Samuel Garber and wife Lydia (Heeter) Garber.

Henry Garber and wife Abigail (Arnold) Garber.

John Garber and wife Catherine (Miller) Garber.

Samuel J. Garber and wife Susie (Ozias) Garber.

David H. Garber and wife Lydia (Metzger) Garber.

LeRoy C. Garber and wife Cleo (Balsbaugh) Garber.

Samuel A. Garber and wife Marjorie (Gish) Garber.

Doubtless there were many other Garbers and Garber relatives who have served the Wolf Creek Church in various capacities and with no less humility and faithfulness.

ELDER JACOB GARBER

Transcribed from the CENTENIAL BIOGRAPHICAL RECORD OF THE CITY OF DAYTON AND MONTGOMERY COUNTY, OHIO.

By Frank Conover, 1897.

Elder Jacob Garber, Minister of the Old German Baptist Church and a substantial farmer of Madison Township, Montgomery County, Ohio was born March 8th. 1821 in the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia, and was about fifteen years of age when brought to Ohio by his parents.

John Garber, whose paternal great grandfather was probably born in Germany and came to America in the mid 1700's and settled in York County, Pennsylvania and moved into Maryland and thence into the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia. He was a Minister, farmer and shoe cobbler by vocation. Elder John Garber reared a family of fifteen children namely John, Samuel, Daniel, Jacob, Rebecca, Henry, James, Nancy, Susannah, Jonathan, Hettie, Josiah, Sallie, Allen and Barbara.

John Garber, father of Elder Jacob Garber, was born in Fredrick County, Maryland in the year 1784 and went with his parents to the Shenandoah Valley of Virginia. After his marriage to Nancy Erbaugh he located on a farm in Rockingham County, Virginia on which he lived until the fall of 1835, when he brought his family to Ohio and settled on 160 acres in Madison Township, Montgomery County, Ohio, making the entire journey by covered wagons. Elder John Garber first occupied a log house on his farm and later fully redeemed his place from the forest by building a brick dwelling and made for himself and family a comfortable home.

The Garber family were members of the old German Baptist Church of which Daniel, Samuel and Jacob were ministers. Elder John Garber died in the seventy-third year of his age honored by all his neighbors for the uprightness which characterized a long and Useful life.

Elder Jacob Garber in his youth received the customary district school education and passed his earlier manhood on the home farm. On November 3rd. 1842 he was united in wedlock, in Madison Township, with Miss Catherine Vaniman who was born November 10th. 1820, in the same township, her parents being Jacob and Mary (Bowman) Vaniman.

Jacob Vaniman, the father of Mrs. Garber, after his marriage to Miss Mary Bowman, located on 160 acres of the old Vaniman homestead, cleared the tract from the wilderness and erected an excellent brick dwelling and there passed his years, respected and happy until his death which occurred in his sixty-fifth year. His children in the order of their birth were Catherine, John, Elizabeth, David, Jacob, George, Daniel, Mary and Barbara.

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Garber located on a farm of $157\frac{1}{2}$ acres in Madison Township which Mr. Garber had bought and partly cleared and upon which he resided for eighteen years. In 1868 he moved from here to his present farm of 268 acres, which is now in an excellent state of cultivation and modern improvement. Mrs. Garber died July 31st. 1853. This union was blessed with seven children named Barbara, Mary, Nancy, Elizabeth, Susan, Amanda and Catherine. Mr. Garber next married Elizabeth Vaniman and their children were Sarah, Martha, Hettie, Harriet, Albert and Ezra. Mr. Garber united with the Old German Baptist Church at the age of twenty-two years and for the past thirty-five years has given faithful and untiring service to the ministry.

- IV. 23 Jacob Garber, b 3-8-1821, d 2-20-1909. (21)
 He first married Catherine Vaniman in 1842. She was born in 1821 and died July 31st. 1853 at the age of 32 years, 8 months and 21 days. Jacob then married Elizabeth Vaniman, a sister of his first wife. He was a devout member of the Old German Baptist Church in which he was elected to the position of Deacon in 1852 and was advanced to the Ministry in 1863. He became an Elder of the church in 1876. Jacob was pastor of the Wolf Creek Church in Montgomery County, Ohio from 1881 to 1898. Due to old age he resigned his pastorate and thereafter became a devoted and helpful friend and neighbor until his death. He was twice married and both wives were sisters of Elder Daniel Vaniman. There were seven children to the first marriage and six by the second marriage.

 Kimmel, was born on a farm near Brookville, Ohio August 13th. 1881. For Mr. Kimmel's generous help in assembling the data for his and other family records the author of this work wishes to express his genuine gratitude. Ezra attended the grade school in Perry Township, Montgomery County, Ohio from which he graduated in 1898. After attending High School for two years he was forced to forego further education because of health problems. On February 27th. 1910 Ezra married Miss Edna Shellabarger. To this marriage were born two children, Ruth and Byron. Mr. Kimmel farmed until 1941 at which time poor health forced him to leave the farm.
 He thereafter settled in the city of Brookville, Ohio.
 Following the death of his father Ezra was appointed agent for two Insurance Companies, a position which he held for a period of forty years. He has been a member of the Church of the Brethren since 1911.

IV. 25 Henry Garber, b 2-10-1826, d 12-18-1881, was one of the outstanding Old German Baptist ministers of the 19th. century. Henry established his home along Clayton Road just north of Bear Creek in Montgomery County, Ohio. His brother John Garber lived directly across the creek, their farms joining. They were both prosperous farmers and noted ministers of the period from 1880 to 1910, and raised children who are occupying fertile farms in the same vicinity. It is said that Henry performed as many or more than 125 weddings and other ceremonies during his active career.

Henry Garber was a great-grandson of the noted Elder Johannes Garber of Virginia. Henry married Miss Susannah Wogaman and they were the parents of eight children whose names and family records will follow in the order of their birth. b 4-25-1832, d 7-5-1913.
