Semper Fida Class, Friend's S. S., Wabash, Ind.

(See last page).

The Semper Fida Class of Wabash, Ind.

IN 1910 a class of girls was organized at the Friend's Sunday-school of Wabash, Indiana. This class has gradually increased in membership until now twenty-one active girls are enrolled.

Our motto is, "Always Faithful"; our colors, maroon and gray. We have a class yell and a class song.

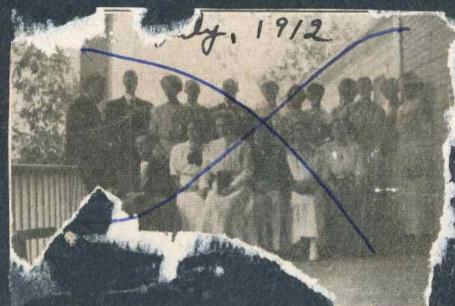

Our classroom is decorated with pennants in maroon and gray, and pictures.

Each member of the class wears a tiny maroon pennant with the letters "S. F." on it in gray. Besides, each girl has a small silver pin, which was presented to her by the superintendent of the Sunday-school for her faithful attendance, the class having received the banner for attendance twenty-seven times during the past year. Miss Cora Deal is Teacher.

We belong to the International Sunday-school Association, and have the following officers and committees: President, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, and membership, Sunday-school and Missionary committees.

The Sunday-school committee has charge of the school Home Department. The members of the missionary committee give help to the needy and visit the sick, sometimes taking flowers to cheer them. The membership committee, besides increasing the membership, has charge of the social meetings, which are held once a month at the home of one of the girls.

The members pay five cents a month for dues which are used for class expenses, and for flowers for the sick. Last winter we gave all the money in the treasury to a family in need and we girls contributed a number of things for a Christmas dinner for another unfortunate family.—[Ruby Purdy, Class President.]

Sight Seeing Tips

Chicago's Parks

Lincoln Park (North Side)—Any surface line on N. Clark or Wells Streets skirts the park at its southwest side. Lake Michigan forms eastern boundary. Accommodation for 12,000 bathers. Near the center of the park are the zoological buildings, conservatories. The Zoo contains more than 2,300 animals. The animals are fed at 4 P. M., a favorite time for visiting the Zoo. St. Gauden's statue of Lincoln and Rebisso's Grant monument here.

Jackson Park (South Side)—Cottage Grove car going south on Wabash Avenue or South Side "L." This is a legacy from the World's Exposition. Here may be seen the Field Museum of Natural History. The Park Refectory, which was the German Government Building during the exposition, furnishes refreshments at reasonable prices. The Wooded Island, Japanese Buildings, Life Saving Station, the caravels of Columbus, all are features of interest.

Washington Park (South Side)—Cottage Grove cars going south from the Loop, along the east side of the park or South Side "L." Lagoons, winding driveways, lawns and shrubbery characterize this park.

Board of Trade—La Salle Street and Jackson Boulevard. A gallery is set apart for the use of visitors. Trading hours are 9:30 A. M. to 1:15 P. M. except Saturdays.

Art Institute—Michigan Avenue, foot of Adams Street. Free on Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays. Open from nine A. M. to six P. M.

Field Museum of Natural History—In Jackson Park, opposite east end of Fifty-seventh Street. Occupies the building used for art exhibition at the World's Fair in 1893 and contains a large collection of objects illustrating the natural sciences and archaeology. See Park car lines.

City Hall and County Buildings—Occupy a block, bounded by Randolph, Clark, Washington and La Salle Sts. The offices of William Hale Thompson, Mayor of Chicago, are on the fifth floor of the south half of the building.

Coliseum—Wabash Avenue near 15th Street.

Stock Yards—A guide is furnished to pilot visitors through the yards and immense packing houses and to give them a chance to see every feature of interest. Reached by all South Side "L" trains; transferring at Indiana Avenue station to Stock Yards spur "L" service.

Moody Bible Institute—The Institute offers to transport convention delegates to and from the Institute in its own autos without charge, during the convention. Ask for tickets at the Information Bureau, Coliseum Annex.

Manhattan Beach—(Private). 75th Street and Lake Front. Reached by Cottage Grove car (90th Street Division) direct to beach. Short walk from Illinois Central.

Northwestern University—Evanston, overlooking Lake Michigan. Take Chicago and Northwestern Railroad to Evanston; or Northwestern "L" express to Evanston.
